

These are a few pics from our walk near a little town called Bright - around Mt Buffalo. This is an area in Victoria, Australia.

Please google “Bright” & “Mt Buffalo” images to see this beautiful area in more detail.

Our walking group was led by a great guy Mick Parsons – Hedonistic Hiking.

Aussie bush has a character all of its own. You can still see results of enormous bush fire that damaged the area.

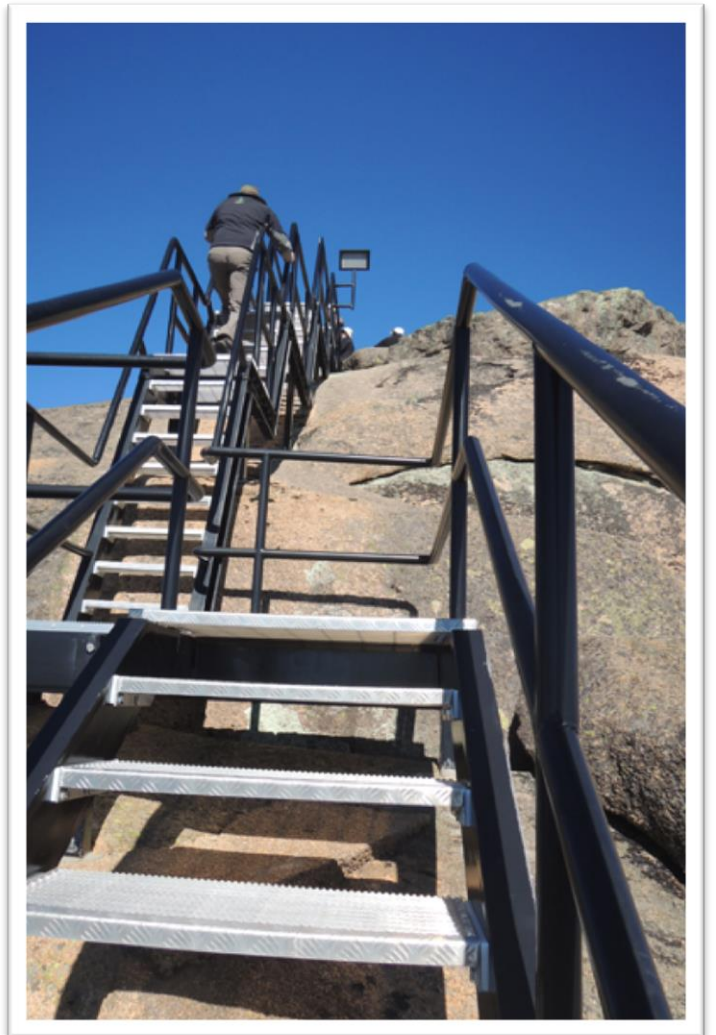

I love the dusty green colour of gum leaves.

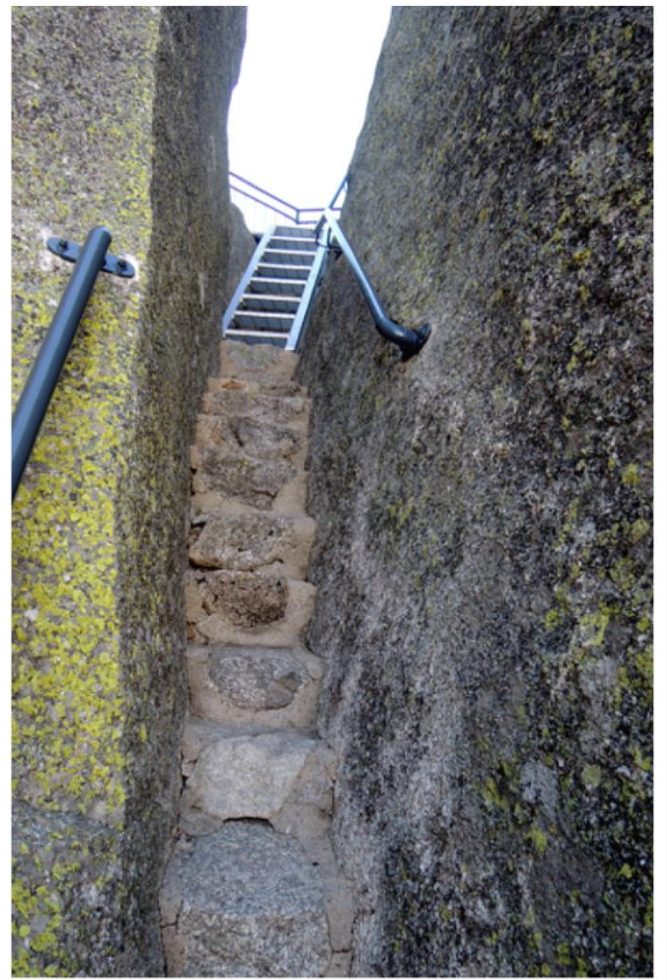

Great views of course.

Great picnics to enjoy – executed superbly by Jackie Pardons – Hedonistic Hiking.

Our sunset dinner picnic on top of the mountain was a highlight.

A great way to finish our visit was a guided walk through a winery called Ringer Reef.
